Active Members: 24

Purpose: The Gator Guard Drill Team is a program through which its members are taught how to lead. It also allows students to broaden their military backgrounds in preparation for a commission or work with the armed forces. It enhances the prestige of the University through favorable publicity received from these performances. Besides providing drill performances for the Student Body, the team allows them a chance to experience one of the older, more formal parts of history, by performing Color Guards at student functions (like the Football Games).

Activities: The Gator Guard Drill Team provides Color Guards at requested events and at the UF home football games. The Gator Guard annually represents both the student body and the University of Florida in the UF Homecoming and Mardi Gras parades.
